Brian K. Burke | Partner, Chair Emeritus & General Counsel

brian.burke@bakerd.com

Professional Experience

Brian Burke's civil litigation practice concentrates in the areas of business torts and unfair competition, employment, intellectual property, securities and products liability. He has extensive experience in litigating cases involving employee noncompete covenants and alleged misappropriation of trade secrets or other business confidential information. Many of the cases Brian has handled have involved requests for injunctive relief. His employment litigation has included cases involving defamation, termination of employment and compensation disputes.

Brian is Baker & Daniels' Chair Emeritus, and he serves as the firm's General Counsel.

Management Experience

Brian completed his 18th year in a leadership position at Baker & Daniels in 2007. Elected to the Management Committee in 1990, the firm appointed him Managing Partner in January 1993. In his 15 years as Chair and Chief Executive Officer, Brian led Baker & Daniels' expansion geographically across Indiana and around the globe, as well as doubling the number of lawyers and consultants practicing from offices in Indiana, Washington, D.C. and China. B&D Consulting, a division of Baker & Daniels, also grew in numbers and services, providing a national multidisciplinary team of government affairs, health reimbursement, media and public relations professionals from its office in Washington, D.C.

In addition, Brian helped to conceive and implement initiatives to improve and expand service to clients, accommodate more flexible work schedules for the firm's attorneys, raise the firm's visibility in the markets that it serves, enhance the firm's support of the communities in which its offices are located and strategize for the future needs and interests of Baker & Daniels, B&D Consulting and their clients.
